Owner / Operator & Editor – Joseph Timmons

IndiePulse Music Magazine, a Journalistic and Music News Magazine Online, started out 8 years ago as a labor of love by the present owner Joseph Timmons. IndiePulse Magazine is now an international y read online publication with great Reviews and Interviews. We cover stories about the Indie Music artists that are doing what they want and pursuing their destiny. While hoping not to have to work minimum wage jobs into their 80's.

In addition to our dedication to true journalistic stories and articles we have created an online radio station, providing the artists in the Independent Music Scene a medium that openly and without barriers allows them to reach a worldwide fan base.

The Indie Label scene itself has been rejuvenated and there are more home spun record labels starting every day, some failing, some with the staying power to make it. We hope you like what the musicians, indie labels and we offer you.

We have the wonderful opportunity to work with some of the best in the music industry, as well as long established artists that like and support what we do and are working with us to reach more in the industry to bring you more news and exclusives. This year, 2017, we will be adding to the magazine EXCLUSIVE VIDEO launches, and increasing our reach with working with artists to record exclusive audio content, recorded for our release to members of our new Music Box Record Club.

This has brought us to change and improve our Advertising platform, we expanded our servers, making our cost to operate lower, and we have updated the site and made room for more adequate advertising, opening, to you, our potential advertising sponsor, lower ad rates.

Our present Email Newsletter numbers for the end of 2016 is at 1,900 readers in the United States and territories. Our international readership is much higher at a huge 10,000 readers that get our email regularly and through it visit the site regularly. Listeners to our radio station often follow the magazine closely to hear new music first. impRadio.org is commercial free, simulcast on Tune In app and iTunes for our podcasts, as well as Spreaker, Mixcloud, Soundcloud and other social media. Our site has surpassed previous year's numbers by 100%, and in December 2016 we had 216, 000 visitors that had a 60% regular return rate.

The Next page refers to our Advertising Graphic sizes and fees, each graphic is exact size and marked with rate, rates are monthly; we request each potential advertiser consider rates may increase into the New Year, signing up early in the year locks in rates for 12 months. Clients can buy on month to month, by monthly invoice and monthly subscription. Clients that pre pay in blocks of 4 months at a time receives 10% discount.

Large Advertisement is 350px by 250px or larger up to 500px by 400px
